2015 Department of Classics Study Abroad Program in Orvieto

The Department of Classics' fully accredited overseas program (jointly administered with the city of Orvieto, Italy and the Orvieto Civic Foundation) is the UA's most popular study abroad program. Courses are offered in fall, spring, and summer sessions, and usually include Ancient Greek and Latin languages, literature, art, archaeology, as well as Italian and courses from other disciplines. The Institute also provides opportunities for archaeological fieldwork and museum internships. Orvieto is a hill fortress in Umbria, surrounded by ancient Etruscan and Roman sites, and just forty-five minutes away from Rome by train.

Here are the summer 2015 courses:

· Classics 160B1 - Roots of Western Civilization (Philip Waddell) Tier I Traditions & Cultures
· Classics 335 - Rulers and Ruled (Philip Waddell)
· Classics 300 – Art and the Classical Ideal (David Soren) Tier II Humanities
· Classics 340b - Roman Art and Architecture (David Soren)
· Classics 452 - Etruscan Art and Culture (Claudio Bizzarri)

The Travel and Study in Italy Award will be given each year to a student pursuing a graduate or undergraduate degree in the Department of Classics at the University of Arizona. Awards shall be made to students participating in academic travel in Italy and/or study abroad programs in Italy, including summer programs.
